Our "tools for togetherness" know no boundaries. Whether you're creating a cozy garden terrace, a charming sidewalk café or refreshing your office space, each product is designed to bring friends, family or colleagues together in new ways. Explore the versatility of our products to inspire any indoor or outdoor space.

Why on earth

At Extremis, we only start developing an idea if it is both necessary and useful.

Immortal ideas

We aim to inspire the future by changing today's way of thinking.

Lasting materials

We employ only the highest quality materials and cutting-edge processes.

Carefully designed

The best way to make a product last, however, is to make it beautiful. In every aspect.

With positive impact

Designs that have the power to spark meaningful connections and enhance the way we interact with one another.

We strive to create ideas that are loved for their personality, embraced for their quality, and cherished for their impact, as true tools for togetherness.

Acacia

This eccentric shade is intended to be directed towards the sun to create just as much shade as a 3m parasol would. Just like the African acacia tree that evolved to capture as much sun as possible with the smallest leaf canopy, Acacia casts shade wherever you like with a relatively small surface area.

AMAi

© Design by Dirk Wynants for Extremis, 2021

Furniture that is as flexible as your lifestyle: meet AMAi, a true marvel of multifunctionality. Take every moment to new heights with the adjustable tabletop, lights, electricity, a catering station and a sunshade.

All our designs are original creations and protected by intellectual property rights.

This coworking space in a former chapel, brings people together around the AMAi to share ideas and get some work done. Standing or seated, under the supervision of the Holy Mary, you'll be blessed with sublime workday!

An effortless dinner event with friends or a focused brainstorm session with colleagues? AMAi is a landing place for togetherness, adapting instantly to every new experience.

This trendy and laid-back coffee shop is the perfect setting for the AMAi table in galvanized steel. An ideal spot to enjoy a latte with some home-made cake! The add-on table creates some extra space alongside the tabletop. This add-on table pins onto the side caps of the frame and can be used both in the standard and high position.

Due to the white color sheme, the AMAi table's industrial look beautifully complements with the rustic facade of this historic house.

It’s time to steal the show! With the perfect height to prepare meals and drinks, you have an outdoor cooking corner to share delicious togetherness with friends. Share a glass at the bar, throw together a meal and eat at the high or low table. At daytime or under the night sky, AMAi is a table without limits.

The frame overhead can have optional LED lights and/or plugs to offer connectivity at all times.

AMAi is the flexibility that you desire, all the time, indoors and outdoors. Two A-shaped side frames provide a solid construction. In between these frames, you can position the tabletop into two heights: standard or high. Thanks to the innovative design, even a single person can smoothly slide the tabletop from 'sitting height' into 'standing height' and vice versa.

Gargantua 30 YEARS

© Design by Dirk Wynants for Extremis, 1994

Back in 1994, Dirk Wynants wanted to create a table where children could comfortably sit at the same height as the adults to enable better communication. He created the perfect family table, ready to withstand the elements, and at the same time a true design icon.

All our designs are original creations and protected by intellectual property rights.

The Gargantua table shows how aging gracefully is not only a matter of design, but also of material choice. The galvanized legs prove to be a super durable material that never rusts, while the exposure to sun and rain has caused the wooden tabletop and benches to receive a grayish tone that now perfectly suit the weathered floor.

The aged wood, clean lines and galvanized steel of the Gargantua picnic table complement the sleek silhouette of this minimal private poolhouse.

Get ready for a blizzard! Gargantua doesn't mind being buried under meters of snow in the mountains of Champéry, Switzerland, thanks to the use of super-durable wood and steel.

Coworkers having a lunch break at the Transavia transport building in Schiphol/ the Netherlands.

Because of its adjustable benches for children, Gargantua is often passed on to the next generation. The epitome of sustainability: a product that links generations and keeps on showing its worth.

The bench height can be adjusted to suit social or family circumstances.

In the highest position the benches become a tabletop extension and provide space for 12 people.

The galvanized steel of the Gargantua matches with the metal parapets of this penthouse terrace.

Cheers to a pleasant picnic with friends! 8 people can easily gather around this circle of coziness to enjoy an outdoor day to the fullest.

Gargantua

Gargantua is the original 'tool for togetherness.' Born from the notion that gathering around a table should be accessible for all, form certainly followed function in more ways than one. The adjustable benches ensure that small children sit at the same eye level as adults and the tabletop is accessible by wheelchair. Gargantua is the ultimate symbol of inclusivity. Provides space for 8 - 12 people.

Hopper picnic

© Design by Dirk Wynants for Extremis, 2010

At a lively beer festival, elegance is almost certainly not the main concern, but this hasn't stopped us from trying to improve access to the classic picnic table. We managed to incorporate more space at the sides to get in.

A quick change of scenery? This versatile bench can be used in more than one way. Take a seat on the bench or turn around to the opposite direction - the backrest now doubles as a tabletop. This design adds comfort to each street, rooftop, garden or balcony.

Registered in the U.S. Patent and Trademark Office.
All our designs are original creations and protected by intellectual property rights.

In 2021, the town of Rockford, Michigan closed part of its main street for a few months to create a public gathering space. After seeing how the main street quickly became a bustling place for families and friends, boosting the local businesses as well, the city has made a long-term investment in togetherness by placing Hopper benches along the walkways to bring people together in the public space.

To create an attractive and lively urban area, Okayama city in Japan has placed 30 Hopper benches along the main street. By shifting from a 'car-centered' to a 'people-first' area, the city has created a spacious area that is fun to walk along. Now, people from all ages feel comfortable using the public space that has shifted from a parking space into a meeting area.

Being based in the only hops region in Belgium, we've let the many hop gardens that dominate the landscape inspire our designs. Mimicking the hop fields, the Hopper shade has slanted poles that fold the canopy in an esthetically pleasing way.

All our designs are original creations and protected by intellectual property rights.

Without taking up any extra space around the table, the broad canopy of the Hopper shade offers this family a refreshing spot to enjoy lunch at these holiday homes in Les Issambres, France.

This garden in Grand Rapids, Michigan, USA, looks like a winter wonderland, straight from a fairytale.

Inumbra

© Design by Dirk Wynants for Extremis, 2002

This all-black Inumbra shade is a statement piece.

This all-black Inumbra shade is a statement piece with some very nice extra's. While the black canvas doesn't have any dangling parts hanging above your head, it also doesn't easily show 'natural droppings'. The black pole fits into the tabletop, leaving all the space underneath for your legs.

Pantagruel also serves as a parasol base. So there's no pole cramping your legroom!

Inumbra provides protection with a minimalist look and no technical parts on view. Opens and closes easily with a separate handle. Inumbra has been submitted to wind-tunnel testing at the Von Karman Institute. Although the parasol can withstand wind speeds of up to 8 on the Beaufort scale, it is off course advisable to close it sooner (from wind speed 6 as a rule of thumb).

Kosmos shade

Kosmos shade is an ingenious design that opens horizontally like a fan, offering excellent wind resistance (wind force 6 on the Beaufort scale). It hangs low enough to provide lots of shade, and is perfect for placing next to the Kosmos table and seat combination or any other furniture. Hidden magnets keep the shade open.

Manille

© Design by Dirk Wynants for Extremis, 2023

From a cozy setting of four ideal for cocooning to a sprawling table for a large group, Manille is sure to pull the right card with outdoor lovers across the globe.

All our designs are original creations and protected by intellectual property rights.

You can opt to create islands of separate Manille tables or you can link multiple tables seamlessly, thanks to this coupling piece.

Manille transforms into a cozy cocoon with a shade system effortlessly sliding into the backrests, offering sun protection and creating a charming outdoor retreat.

At the Frederik Meijer Gardens in Michigan, USA, visitors can take a seat at the easy accessible Manille tables.

Manille

Manille is a perfect blend of practicality and joy. Designed as a table-bench formation, this table comfortably accommodates up to four people, while the head of the table is reserved for wheelchair users - making Manille an inclusive and accessible table. With a parasol system simply sliding into the backrests, Manille effortlessly becomes a cosy cocoon, protected from the sun.

Marina

© Design by Metrica for Extremis, 2012

This particular design once again shows the 'Tools for Togetherness' philosophy of Extremis. The seemingly endless table is perfect for entertaining large groups of guests, friends and family.

All our designs are original creations and protected by intellectual property rights.

The reed green Marina picnic is the preferred table for an outdoor lunch.

This Marina combo set with matching Captain's Chairs integrates effortlessly into a natural landscape or urban setting.

Add cushions for extra soft comfort.

The fixed benches or Captain's Chairs? At the Marina combo, you always gather gracefully.

The Marina combo table enriches this patio. Notice how there's also a Marina placed indoors, what a flued transition between outside and inside.

Marina

A table that can be as long as your guest list or as short as you need for a family of four: the Marina is designed for intimate gatherings or large meetings. You and your guests can easily move about and engage with everyone. This table is the ultimate conversation playground.

Panigiri

© Design by Dirk Wynants for Extremis, 2023

An endless festival at the dining table. Panigiri's modularity ensures there's a seat for everyone, allowing table segments to be endlessly coupled. By combining chairs, benches and add-on chairs, you create the setting of your desire

All our designs are original creations and protected by intellectual property rights.

Nestled beside the sea, this Mediterranean villa has its own alfresco haven featuring the Panigiri picnic setup and the elegant Sensu Tilted umbrella. The BYOS (Bring Your Own Seat) and Slide-on cushions bring comfort to the organic wooden benches. Paired with the Walrus sofa in beige and terracotta hues, the patio becomes a picturesque retreat.

Sheltered by a generous roof overhang, this inviting patio features the Panigiri combo and sleek Captain’s Pipe Chairs. Their dark color harmonizes with the bungalow's facade, while soft Slide-on cushions offer a touch of warmth and comfort to the wooden benches.

The Bring Your Own Seat (BYOS) option allows you to hook a super comfortable woven backrest and an upholstered seating cushion onto the bench.

Enhance comfort with slide-on cushions, seamlessly secured through a slide-in technique.

Panigiri

Panigiri offers infinite combinations as soon as you start to play with length and seating options. Comprising only three elements—a central top, two end tops, and legs—the table's smallest setup accommodates eight people comfortably. Adding an extra central top expands the length, providing four additional seats. The possibilities are limitless—construct your desired length with Panigiri!

Pantagruel

© Design by Dirk Wynants for Extremis, 2014

Pantagruel is the son of Gargantua and a giant too: A Gargantuan round tabletop to gather the whole family, but refined elements and a handy Lazy Susan were added. Besides a picnic version there's also a table and high table. All perfect tools to enjoy the good things in life.

On the tropical island of Bonaire, this Pantagruel picnic table aged beautifully under the sultry sun, excellently matching the island's white beaches and blue villa.

Everybody loves a spaghetti party! Certainly if you can keep adding sauce & cheese thanks to the rotating tray.

Pantagruel also serves as a parasol base. The pole fits into the tabletop, leaving all the space underneath for your legs!

Hidden behind a stately Bruges facade lies this luxurious urban jungle. Landscape architect Monbaliu created a green oasis with a mix of asymmetrical shapes and exuberant borders and the round Pantagruel picnic as centerpiece.

Add a backrest to your Pantagruel benches for extra comfort. These curved backrests follow the shape of the round picnic table while adding a sleek back support

The stepped construction of this apartment building by Govaert & Vanhoutte creates an intriguing play of floating terraces. The Pantagruel picnic seamlessly integrates in the design where open facades enhance the wide view of the North Sea, its dunes, and the natural reserve.

At the HQ of Afas Software in the Netherlands, the employees are enjoying a break on one of the many outdoor terraces. The Sunbrella cushions add a soft yet stylish touch to the Earth legs for ultimate comfort.

At Endo Lighting in Tokyo, Japan, this indoor patio brings the outdoor elements indoors. The Pantagruel picnic tables bring people together, and its round shape includes everybody equally. The wooden seats and tabletop add a warm touch, while the shadow play adds an exciting element to the space.

The Ena campus in Greece aims to offer a balance between workspaces and break areas.

The Lazy Susan in the center of the Pantagruel table makes sharing easy.

Pantagruel

The Pantagruel round picnic table seats eight. When combined with the wood used for the tabletop and benches it forms a durable outdoor picnic set. Pantagruel also features a Lazy Susan, to take the hard work out of passing food and drinks around. In addition to the picnic version, there is the Pantagruel table and the high table.

Picnik

© Design by Dirk Wynants & Xavier Lust for Extremis, 2002

The launch of this design elevated a simple ‘tête à tête’ to an extremely romantic or even philosophical converse. Picnik became a real design classic, thanks to its iconic shape.

All our designs are original creations and protected by intellectual property rights.

The sweet spot of this house? The terrace with dune views! Step outside the bedroom and you'll find the Picnik table waiting for you to kickstart your day.

The Picnik in Verdigris blends easily with the garden, making the table a subtle eye-catcher.

Let’s head out onto the balcony for a dreamlike breakfast. Just like the bond between mother and son, the Picnik table is made from one and the same strong material that withstands each season.

Relaxing in style in this beautiful urban garden.

Picnik

This table for two is in fact much more than just a table seating two people. Picnik was of course primarily designed as a table and bench seat combination for small outdoor spaces. But thanks to its striking looks – both solid and stylized at the same time – Picnik is also frequently used indoors. One flat aluminium sheet is transformed into a Picnik, thanks to a number of strategic incisions and folds.

Sensu

© Design by Dirk Wynants for Extremis, 2022

This free hanging, tilting shade combines the serenity of flat design with the functionality of a hand fan system. Thanks to its unique design, Sensu catches the sun with a variety of positions and doesn’t take up any space on your table.

All our designs are original creations and protected by intellectual property rights.

The flat canopy of the Sensu shade has a calming effect on any patio. The floating shade opens horizontally and thanks to its unique tilting and rotating design, it follows the sun throughout the day without effort. The perfect tool for a cool moment!

Thanks to the smart design, the Sensu Quattro diamond effortlessly casts a shadow of almost 30m^2. Four floating canopies are all attached to the same central pole that can be fixed in the ground. Tripping hazards and a loss of space are now a thing of the past; it's time to enjoy a refreshing lunch!

Sensu Tilted is the perfect companion for Panigiri. Boasting a forward 80° angle pole, this cantilever umbrella adds extra space around your table. Effortlessly navigate benches and chairs without hindrance.

Easy tilt Sensu to create shade wherever you want.

The Sensu Tilted creates extra space around your table.

A big patio and a big sofa… need much shade? Not an issue for this Sensu duo diamond shade. With two canopies hanging on the same pole, this shade doesn't take up important patio space, while casting a vast shadow.

With a rotating and tilting feature, this Papyrus white Sensu offers refreshing shade where most needed throughout the day. A light lunch at the Marina combo and later a dive in the pool… Who doesn't love to indulge in the summertime?

Sensu

This free-hanging cantilever parasol combines the beauty of flat design with the functionality of a hand fan system. Unlike traditional center-pole umbrellas, Sensu doesn't take up any space on and under your table - both opened and closed. Rotate and/or cantilever the white, taupe, or black shade to follow the sun throughout the day.

Transform the sunbed into a comfortable outdoor lounge sofa by adding some some cushions.

Sun, sea, lounge, and fun. With Sol+Luna, you have a soft sofa and a perfect sunbed all in one, and with the optional wheels, you can follow the sun each moment of the day.

Having friends over for the day is wonderful, but oh so exhausting… Time for a nap! Sol+Luna easily shifts from sofa to sunbed and vice versa, and thanks to the compact sunshade, you won't burn up while you nap away.

It's not a sunbed, it's not a sofa, it's both. Transform the sunbed into a comfortable outdoor lounge sofa by adding some comfort cushions. This multifunctionality makes Sol+Luna the perfect space-saving solution for balconies or patios. Accessories can be used to create shade, add lighting and provide surfaces for drinks.

Sticks

© Design by Hsu-Li Teo & Stefan Kaiser for Extremis, 2003

A space divider and the perfect way to create privacy wherever needed, inside or outside. Sticks divide your room or terrace optically, without losing the feeling of spaciousness.

All our designs are original creations and protected by intellectual property rights.

Merging perfectly with the color palette of this co-working space located in a former chapel, these Sticks offer privacy while adding a natural touch.

In an open-plan office, employees find some privacy where needed.

Hide away behind the curved Sticks to get some focused work done. Without closing off the space with a hard boundary, this space divider offers privacy and a textured material.

Inspired by nature, Sticks is the ideal space divider. They create a reed-like visual and physical barrier while allowing the light to flood through. Optional weighted bases and floor anchoring suggestions are offered for windy outdoor spaces.

Create your own stylish cocoon at home with the indoor Sticks with natural rubberwood bases.

Sticks

This space divider is the ideal way to create privacy, while keeping an open flow. Use Sticks indoors to adapt the look of a room or office arrangement entirely to your own taste.
